VISION Relocation Group Enhances International Assignment Management Services with Hong Kong Acquisition

Fairfax, Va., (February 5, 2007) – Rebecca Spencer, CRP, president of VISION Relocation Group, announced that the company has acquired Hong Kong-based ReloCenter, which further enhances VISION’s international assignment management capabilities with on-the-ground capabilities in the Asia Pacific region. ReloCenter’s service portfolio includes total assignment management services, including visa & immigration, move management, destination services, extended assignment support and repatriation. Terms of the acquisition have not been disclosed.

According to Spencer, “We saw this acquisition as an opportunity to enhance our service offerings with full-service capability in the region. We made a strategic decision to acquire a company whose service offerings went beyond destination services. ReloCenter has a robust in-house visa & immigration service, as well as total assignment management capabilities.”

At the same time, VISION announced that its new Asia-Pacific Client Service Center will be led by Sharon Leong, managing director and Bonnie Lam, manager, operations. Both Leong and Lam have extensive experience in international assignment management.

Leong brings over a decade of experience and prior to joining ReloCenter oversaw Asia Pacific headquarters of a large relocation company. She holds a Bachelor of Commerce degree from Ryerson Polytechnic University in Toronto, Canada and earned the Employee Relocation Council’s (ERC’s) Global Mobility Specialist (GMS) designation.

Lam previously worked as a visa manager specializing in handling visa applications for expatriates and investors globally. Lam also gained experience in international tax while working for Ernst & Young, where she advised clients on Hong Kong visa and immigration issues, as well as tax implications for expatriates relocating between the USA and Hong Kong. Lam is a graduate of Brigham Young University in Utah, USA with a Bachelor's Degree in Accounting. She also holds a United States Certified Public Accountant (CPA) designation.

Leong commented, "As part of our end-to-end assignment services, we are now able to offer enhanced systems capabilities for both our visa & immigration services as well as the entire spectrum of assignment management services -- from assignment planning and relocation to compensation and tax equalization. VISION's technology application, esp, has very robust reporting capabilities with over 150 standard reports and the ability to deliver funds in multiple currencies in over 70 countries."

Lam added, "We're very pleased to be part of an organization that has a clear strategy on growing its global relocation operations while remaining focused on their 'Service First' philosophy. This acquisition is a win-win-win: a win for ReloCenter, a win for VISION Relocation, and most importantly, a win for our clients."
