VISION Relocation Group Launches Enhanced Version of Technology; Recognized by Computer World Magazine

June 1, 2006 (Fairfax, Va.) – Rebecca Spencer, CRP, president of VISION Relocation Group announced that the company has launched an enhanced version of its proprietary technology application. VISION has been utilizing a single-entry, workflow system, for its U.S. domestic relocation information management, which was recently recognized by Computer World Magazine. The company recently integrated a global assignment management application into the system. This enhanced version of the technology, called esp[™], provides VISION’s clients with a tool for managing their relocations and international assignments on a global basis.

According to Spencer, “Our clients are Fortune 500 and Fortune 1000 multi-national companies who have a need for an integrated, real-time system that has the functionality and scalability to manage relocations and assignments worldwide. esp provides our clients with a database of comprehensive information related to compensation and salary administration, assignment history, pay and reimbursement history, and transferee information.”

This latest module of esp adds the ability to provide cost projections with hypothetical tax calculations and funds delivery in multiple currencies in over 70 countries, tax gross-ups, reimbursements, preparation and equalization in both the home and host countries of the transferee. The system is powered by one of the Big Four accounting firms, which ensures that the tax tables are up to date and accurate.

Lisa Wood, director of client technologies for VISION explains, “esp, which is an acronym for ‘Execution. Service. People’, was built with the latest .NET technology, so it easily integrates with other systems, such as payroll, accounting and tax systems. It offers a very robust reporting capability, including over 150 standard reports and the ability to add user-created reports. Clients and transferees can access the system through I-site, a customized web site.”
